

Women's Gynecological care

Your Well-being is priority.

Take Charge of Your Health

As an international student at the Faculty of Science in České Budějovice, we encourage you to prioritize all aspects of your health and well-being, including reproductive health. Taking care of yourself is essential for your academic and personal success.

Accessible and Covered Care

Take proactive steps toward your well-being. Visits to the gynecologist or other women's health specialists are covered by your health insurance. This ensures you can access these services without financial concerns, making it easier to prioritize your health.
